One of the most amazing things about the Bible is how accurate it is. There are thousands of facts and statements made in the Bible that we can validate using historical documents, archaeological finds and scientific discoveries. There has yet to be a single “fact” discovered that contradicts what we read in the Bible. Let’s look at just a few examples of the overwhelming evidence that supports the fact that the Bible is truly from God.

1. Archaeological Evidence

- a. In Isaiah 20:1, the Bible mentions a king of Assyria named Sargon. For hundreds of years the Bible was the only book that had any record of King Sargon. In 1843, Emile Botta found, near the ruins of the ancient city of Nineveh, the remains of a palace surrounded by many other buildings. Hundreds of ancient documents and records were found and they showed it to be the city of Khorsbad, King Sargon’s imperial city. From 600 B.C. to 1843 (over 2400 years) we had nothing that documented King Sargon, except for the Bible, which told his story accurately.
- b. The Bible mentions another Assyrian King in 2 Kings 18 and 19. The Bible says that King Sennacherib of Assyria conquered many cities in Judah and that he even surrounded the city of Jerusalem, but that he did not conquer it because God sent a plague upon his army. In 1849, an archaeologist found a clay prism, which Sennacherib left as a record of his own deeds. On it he claims to have conquered 48 cities of Judah and says he surrounded Jerusalem, but makes no claim to have captured it. The Bible recorded this event accurately thousands of years before any other historical proof was discovered.
- c. During the six-year excavations of Jericho (1930-1936), an archaeologist named Garstang made an amazing find. It was so amazing that he had a statement of what was found prepared and signed by himself and two other members of the team. In reference to these findings Garstang says: “As to the main fact, then, there remains no doubt: the walls fell outward so completely that the attackers would be able to clamber up and over their ruins into the city.” Why so unusual? Because the walls of cities do not fall outwards when they are attacked. They fall inwards. However, in Joshua 6:20 we read “...The wall fell down flat, so that the people went up into the city every man straight ahead, and they took the city.” The walls were made to fall outward.

2. Scientific Evidence

Do you realize that every year there has to be revisions to all of the science textbooks that are printed because of the newest, latest findings in the scientific world? However, the Bible makes numerous statements that have to do with science. Man has always been a creature of learning. The interesting thing is, while man was learning, God was telling. The writers of the Bible were recording things that were completely different from the ideas that those who were considered to be the “leaders of thought” believed. It is amazing to compare what the Bible says to the thoughts of men.

During the time the Bible was being written...

- a. Man thought – The world rested on the shoulder of a Greek god, sat on the back of a giant turtle, or was supported by huge pillars.

The Bible Said – the “earth hangs on nothing” (Job 26:7)

- b. Man thought – The earth was flat.

The Bible Said – It speaks of the “circle of the earth.” (Isaiah 40:22)

- c. Man thought – There were only 3,000 stars

The Bible Said – The stars are numberless. (Genesis 15:5 and 22:17)

The Bible also records facts within the scientific world that man did not discover for a long time! In fact, in some cases it was the Bible that led man to find it.

3. Fulfilled Prophecies of the Bible

Cities and Nations

- a. Jeremiah 51:32-64, written in 595 B.C., and Isaiah 13:19-21, written in 712 B.C., both predict that the city of Babylon will become desolate and will never be rebuilt. What was once the center of the Babylonian Empire still today lies in ruins and has no human inhabitants.
- b. Ezekiel 29:14-15, written in 589 B.C., predicts that Nebuchadnezzar will conquer Egypt and that it will never again rise to a major world empire. Today Egypt is still considered a “third world country.”
- c. Ezekiel 35:1-19, predicts that the descendants of Esau, the Edomites, will cease to exist as a people and their cities will be desolate. All of this was fulfilled. Today there are no Edomites and their cities lie in ruins.
- d. Deuteronomy 28:26-37 and 63-66 predict that the Israelites will continue as a people, but will be scattered among many nations and will be persecuted. Today we see that the Jewish people are scattered all over the world and that they are one of, if not the most persecuted groups of people.

Jesus Christ

- a. Virgin Birth: Prophesied in Isaiah 7:14—Fulfilled in Matthew 1:18-25.

- d. The death of Christ on the cross: Prophesied in Isaiah 53—Fulfilled in John 19.

*These and literally hundreds of other prophecies raise the question...
“How did these writers know what would happen to entire nations and different people centuries before it actually happened?”*

4. Harmony of the Bible

- a. There are 66 books in the Bible: 39 in the Old Testament and 27 in the New Testament. 40 different authors wrote these 66 books over a period of 1600 years. Yet none of the writers (some writing hundreds of years apart with no access to one another) contradict one another on any issue!

- b. The writers of the Bible come from varying backgrounds. There were kings (David), prophets (Jeremiah), tentmakers (Paul), doctors (Luke), fishermen (Peter), tax collectors (Matthew) and other common men. Despite all of the different backgrounds of the writers, every written word in the Bible is in complete agreement. There are NO contradictions!!
- c. The writers of the bible used different languages (mainly Hebrew and Greek) and lived in different countries, but they presented one central theme without variation!!!
- d. There are different types of writing in the Bible including prophecy, history, poetry, proverbs, parables and personal letters. These were all written during a time of myths, superstitions and general scientific ignorance. Yet everything written in the Bible has been proven true!!!

In our next lesson we will look at the response God requires of us!

What response does God require?
